Dr. Morgan Hits Back At Critics

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3 — (UP)—Dr. Margaret Morgan, Indiana mental health commissioner hit back today at those who criticized her for firing Dr. John Larson as head of the Logansport State Hospital.

Her prepared statement said she was "astonished" that one critic said Larson's dismissal "indicated we are unconcerned about the patient."

"I am sick and tired of having self-styled mental health authorities exploit the symbol of patient care for their own personal publicity," Dr. Morgan said.

She blamed three Republican state lawmakers, Sen. Dorothy Gardner of Fort Wayne and Reps. Jesse Dickenson of South Bend and Ralph Hines of Portland, of making public statements "without trying to get the facts."

Larson was replaced Thursday with Dr. John Southworth, clinical director of Madison State Hospital. Larson was charged with mismanagement and inefficiency, and Dr. Morgan said her only mistake may have been her failure to relieve him earlier.

Larson said his dismissal was a cover-up for the mismanagement of others.

Ex-Mayor Loses Place On Ballot

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 3 — (UP)—The mayoralty campaign at Vincennes was less crowded today following a decision by the Knox County Election Board to knock former Mayor William Betz off the ballot.

Betz lost in the Democratic primary last spring, but formed a Peoples Party and entered the race under that banner.

The election board, in a meeting Saturday, split 2-1 in voiding Betz's candidacy. The majority cited a 1951 Indiana attorney General's opinion in a similar case to back its ruling.

The race now has been trimmed to one Democratic and one Republican candidate and independent incumbent mayor Eugene Stocker.

The board ordered absentee ballots, printed with Betz's name, recalled and new ballots printed.

DEATH STALKS INDIANA ROADS, TOLL IS NOW 34

FATALITIES ON HOOSIER HIGHWAYS SOARED IN PAST FIVE DAYS

Indiana's blood-stained highways and streets claimed a grim toll of at least 34 dead in a period of less than five days ending today as Hoosier motorists headed into the season which safety experts warn is the year's most dangerous.

The rash of accidents which began Wednesday afternoon, also killed at least 17 persons during the weekend from Friday night until midnight Sunday. Both the weekend and the four day toll were among the worst of the year.

One weekend crash killed three persons and two others killed two each. Only one crash involved more than one car, and high speed was blamed for many of the accidents.

F. C. Harshman, Frankfort, his wife, Eula Mae, and Lander Williams, Frankfort, were killed when trapped in a car which plunged into Sugar Creek, along Ind. 39 north of Lebanon.

Cynthia Beringer, 4, South Bend, was killed when two cars heading for the Indiana-Notre Dame football game crashed at South Bend. Mrs. Charlotte Hungryager, Elkhart, died later of injuries.

Bernard L. Rhoades, Mooresville and Richard Remster, Camby, rode to death in an auto which struck a tree in Monrovia, injuring four other youths.

John Carpenter, Indianapolis, was killed when his car smashed into a railroad elevation in his home city. Police said he may have dozed.

Lester Harder, Logansport, was killed when the car he occupied went out of control at high speed and overturned several times on Ind. 57 northeast of Evansville.

Cecil Foutch, Lawrenceburg, was killed when his car struck a pole near Lawrenceburg and burst into flames.

James Brown, 9, Indianapolis, was killed when he ran into the path of a car on an Indianapolis street.

Other victims were: William Yount, Richmond, hit by a car while crossing a street near his home.

Steve Behary, struck by an auto in East Chicago.

David Spears, Albany, whose car went out of control on Ind. 67 near Muncie.

Clinton Bechtel, Montpelier, O. whose big truck hit a powerline pole along U. S. 6 near Butler. He was electrocuted as he stepped from the cab.

Donald R. Rhoades, Washington, riding in a car which missed a curve on a Knox county road and struck a tree.

Salk Will Test New Polio Shots

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3 — (UP) Dr. Jonas E. Salk plans to conduct tests on volunteer school children to learn whether a new version of his vaccine will provide greater immunity to polio.

The University of Pittsburgh scientist disclosed that laboratory tests show that a new vaccine appears more potent than the anti-polio shots now being administered to school children.

Dr. Salk announced, in an article published in the Allegheny County Medical Society's weekly bulletin, that the vaccine to be tested is basically the same as that now in use, but several different strains have been developed to bolster the vaccine's ability to halt polio.

He will ask Pittsburgh school authorities for permission to test the more powerful vaccines in "certain selected schools," which will include kindergarten pupils and children in the first three grades.

"Our plan is to initiate the new studies within the next few weeks," he said.

DELEGATES RECALLED AFTER WALKOUT

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay (left), and Herve Alphand French United Nations leader, board their plane back to Paris after being recalled. The recall of the French leaders followed Pinay's action when he led the French U. N. delegation in a walkout, following the N. N.'s vote to debate the Algerian issue.

CRISES ROCK FRANCE; FAURE IN SHAKY SPOT

SERIES OF MAJOR POLITICAL AND DIPLOMATIC CRISIS REPORTED

PARIS, Oct. 3.—A series of major political and diplomatic crises rocked France today, threatening its international position and periling the government of Premier Edgar Faure.

Open warfare broke out in Morocco where 200 Frenchmen and Arabs were reported killed this weekend. Revolt threatened in Algeria. France recalled its permanent delegation from the United Nations and relations with the Soviet Union were suddenly less friendly.

Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay asked Soviet Ambassador Sergei Vinogradov to call today, and informed sources said he would inform him that Faure and Pinay were postponing their trip to Moscow.

France was angry because the Soviet Union had just voted in favor of United Nations debate on Algeria. This was the fuse which touched off the whole series of crises.

The French National Assembly convenes Thursday after its summer recess and it was certain Faure would meet rough going from the body that voted Pierre Mendes-France out of office last spring because it did not like his North African policy.

Faure was in trouble and he knew it. He pleaded for "continuity of government" in a speech Sunday on eve of the assembly meeting.

Democrats Hold Strategy Meeting

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 — (UP) — Democratic leaders from most states in the nation met today to plot 1956 campaign strategy and, unofficially, discuss the political effects of President Eisenhower's illness.

Mr. Eisenhower's illness was not on the official agenda of the two-day meeting of the 29-member Democratic advisory Committee. But it was believed certain that his possible elimination as a 1956 GOP presidential candidate would come up for closed-door discussion.

Some of the Democratic leaders were also expected to take advantage of the meeting by visiting Adlai E. Stevenson here. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, is scheduled to announce next month whether he will make another bid for the White House.

Nixon Reports The Government Is OK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — (UP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has assured the nation that the government is operating in President Eisenhower's illness without "internal disputes and jealousies."

In an impromptu news conference held on the lawn of his home Sunday, the vice president said "every official of government has only one goal in mind, and that is to see that the government runs in a way just as close as possible to the way we think the President would want it run under these circumstances."

Since the President's illness, Nixon said, there have been none of the "internal disputes and jealousies" that usually mark "similar occurrences in American history."

ACCUSED OF MURDER

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3 — (UP)—A preliminary murder charge was filed today against Raymond Patrick, 28, accused of slugging a Detroit motorist for blowing his horn unnecessarily. Jack N. Nicholson, 58, was struck Friday night and died Sunday morning. Witnesses said another motorist accused him of blowing his horn, then struck him over the left eye.

Police took a description of the assailant and traced it to Patrick, who admitted striking Nicholson. But Patrick was released when Nicholson refused to sign a warrant.

Carrying the bouquet of red roses presented to him by his wife, former Grand Adm. Erich Raeder leaves Spandau prison in Berlin. Once the top naval aide of Adolf Hitler, the 79-year-old convicted Nazi war criminal was released from a life sentence because of his health and his advanced age.

EXTRA!

ELY, Minn., Oct. 3 — (UP)—Rescue crews worked around the clock for the fifth day today in their drive to reach a miner trapped 1,300 feet underground by an iron ore mine cave-in.

The weary task was pushed forward, even though it was Joe Glinsek, 43, was dead by lieved positive that the miner, this time.

FORT WAYNE, Oct. 3 — Richard Pallone, 4, was burned to death when he apparently set a chest of drawers on fire while playing with matches, then hid in a nearby closet.

The blaze broke out Saturday while the boy's father, Anthony, slept in an upstairs bedroom and his mother was out shopping. Firemen contained flames to the area near the closet.

The boy's body was found in the blackened closet.

The fire was discovered by an older brother who smelled smoke while playing outside.

RICHMOND, Ind. Oct. 3 — Crosley workers streamed back to their jobs today, 102 days after they began a strike which led to repeated violence and filing of charges against nearly 100 persons.

The 2,200 AFL Electrical Workers voted unanimously Saturday to end the walkout against the Avo Manufacturing Co.'s Crosley Division and accept a flat 10 cent hourly wage increase.

PARIS, Oct. 3 — (UP)—France told Soviet Russia formally today that Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine have postponed their visit to Moscow because of the position taken by Russia on the Algerian vote in the United Nations.

Anikine was called to the Foreign Soviet Attaché Alexander Office at midday and was received by Pinay.

CAIRO, Oct. 3 — (UP)—State Department trouble-shooter George Allen scheduled a final conference with Premier Gamal Abdel Nasseh today on the arms question but it appeared Allen's mission had failed.

Nasser not only declared in a speech that Egypt would stick with her agreement with Czechoslovakia to buy arms but also bitterly attacked the Western powers and accused them of trying to keep Egypt unarmed and thus be under their influence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — (UP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey says men 36 and over will not be drafted in any future war unless the United States is attacked at home.

Hershey said men 26-to-36 would be used "only selectively" and that men under 26 would be the only group "sure" to see military service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (UP)—Sen. George D. Aiken, the administration's leading farm spokesman in the Senate, predicts that President Eisenhower will veto any bill to restore high fixed government supports on farm prices.

The Vermont senator said current low farm prices are the result of what he called the unrealistic crop production goals set by the Truman administration.

IKE DEVELOPS FIRST SLOWUP SUNDAY NIGHT

"TIREDNESS" REPORTED BY DOCTORS IN PRESIDENT'S ILLNESS

DENVER, Oct. 3.—(UP)—President Eisenhower's doctors today postponed their usual 7 a. m. MST (8 a. m. CST) medical bulletin because the President still was sleeping soundly after suffering from "tiredness" last night.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty informed reporters that the President awoke at 4:25 a. m. MST but went back to sleep within a half hour and was still asleep at 7 a. m.

The President awoke again at 7:10 a. m. The press secretary said the President's temperature and pulse were checked and found normal when he awoke the first time at 4:25 a. m.

Mr. Eisenhower's physicians reported he was "little tired" last night in the first apparent slowdown in his steady recovery from a heart attack. The doctors planned examinations to find the cause of the unexpected fatigue.

Mr. Eisenhower, lulled by a sedative, went to sleep at 8:45 p. m. MST. He was not given any further sedative when he awoke at 4:25 a. m.

The tiredness—the first slowdown reported since the President went to Fitzsimons Army Hospital nine days ago with a coronary thrombosis, came upon him Sunday after he had eaten his supper.

Noticing the fatigue, the President's doctors gave him three-quarters of a grain of secenal, a sedative, and by 8:45 p. m. he was asleep.

The bulletin issued this morning said he was rested and his condition was very satisfactory.

Miss Sandra Johnson was editor of this year's Minaret and Steve Sutherland was business manager.

Delta Theta Tau Members Enjoy Box Supper, Dance

Delta Theta Tau members and their husbands enjoyed a box supper and a square dance afterwards in the barn loft at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Strohm, south of the city.

The members and their guests were dressed for the "outdoor" occasion and starting promptly at 6:30, the auction of beautiful boxes prepared by the members, were sold to the highest bidder. Some even bought two or three boxes, but later sold them at a loss and in the end, everyone came up with a well filled box of fine eats.

After the supper, the whole company enjoyed a square dance for the remainder of the evening.

The setting for the supper and dance were a reminder of the spot in which it was held. Seats were bales of straw scattered around the room, making a circle of seats entirely around the barn loft. A neat sum was realized from the auction which will go into the Welfare fund of the sorority.

Music for the square dance was furnished by the Jacob Plesinger Trio.

Mr. and Mrs. Belles Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belles of Russellville, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home across the Parke county line Sunday afternoon, when they received several hundred visitors. He is engaged in the banking business in Russellville.

They distributed "Golden Wedding" booklets during the afternoon and in it was a tribute written by Edna Scribner, which said:

A TRIBUTE
Fifty years have rolled around
On wings of love and trust
You have always walked together
Hand in hand as lovers must.

When those marriage vows you uttered
Your "I do's" you meant to keep
Your devotion for each other
Shows your love both true and deep.

You had faith in God the Father
To your church you've meant so much
Hand in hand you've worked together
Fifty years of faith and trust.

You have had your share of sorrows
And your ups and downs in life
But together you have shared them
Like a loving man and wife.

Down though the years of friendship
Which has been both tried and true
We offer sincere congratulations
Years more and God's blessing to you.

Potsdam Papers Public Release Could Coincide
Within Near Future? With Truman's Memoirs

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Russia's claim that the 10-year-old Potsdam agreement settled Germany's frontiers may prompt the State department to make the Potsdam papers public within the near future.

The State department as well as members of Congress challenged the Soviet claim that the West German frontiers "have been marked out by the Potsdam conference and cannot be modified."

The official U.S. position on the matter is that Potsdam left the permanent adjustment of Germany's boundaries to a final peace settlement that has not yet taken place.

The State department has been preparing the Potsdam documents for publication for some time. If the release of the papers is expedited, they may become available almost simultaneously with the memoirs of former President Truman, who sat at the Potsdam conference and whose story starts in a national magazine this month.

The 1945 Potsdam agreement approved transfer to Soviet Russia of most of East Prussia, and placed part of East Germany under Polish rule. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who recently took up the matter with Moscow, also contends that only a peace treaty could determine Germany's boundaries.

● CREDIT—You may think credit restrictions are tight now, but you haven't seen anything yet, according to federal fiscal authorities. Congress is to be asked to put tighter clamps on installment buying and loans.

The reason is that Americans are in debt $50 billion to loan companies, banks and stores. Although government economists concede times are good and that credit is necessary to a sound economy, they want to prevent the figure from spiraling.

To stem the tide of "a-dollar-down-and-50-cents-a-week" buying, laws will be sought to require small loan companies and merchants to report their outstanding loans and balances due to the Federal Reserve system. They are not now required to do that.

In addition the Federal Reserve system will take further steps to sop up loose money by bond selling, and banks will be asked to start a drive to collect loans which have been extended.

Government authorities are expected to ask better business groups to urge merchants in their areas to be more thorough on credit application investigations. The merchants themselves will be urged by the government to require higher down payments and give shorter periods in which to clean up the balance.

As a further step, stores will be asked to require that a customer have his account paid up from month to month before new charge purchases can be made.

● YEAR-AROUND JOB—If President Eisenhower ever decides to call a special session of Congress, he can hardly miss pleasing at least one Democrat—Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Humphrey contends that Congress should be in session the year around, except for a breather from Aug. 1 to about mid-September.

He argues that "government today is a full-time business." He maintains that a recess from the end of July to January is clinging to tradition set when the country was less complex and the government was a smaller industry than it has become.

The Minnesota states he thinks the President should call Congress back this autumn. However, most vacationing lawmakers—who are scattered around the world—do not want to come back to Washington until Jan. 1.

More and more homemakers are learning that modern electric ranges mean less work, more leisure time. Pots and pans stay shiny and clean ... your curtains ... walls, ceiling and woodwork ... everything stays fresh and sparkling longer because electric cooking creates no messy soot or smoke. And the electric range's automatic controls are so fool-proof that you can slide a meal in the electric oven, set the dials and forget it. When the family comes home, your meal will be done to perfection and ready to serve.

Electric cooking is faster and safer, too. Flick a switch, and surface units get cooking-hot in seconds. They make direct contact with the bottoms of cooking utensils, so foods reach desired temperatures in a jiffy. There are no flames, no dangerous fumes, no need for matches.

See your appliance dealer now and, while you're there, be sure to ask him about our low-cost electric range installation plan!

As The Seasons Pass So Gently Does Life

By Margaret Latrobe

Sunday was the day of the funeral. A hot Sabbath afternoon at the end of summer. Harvest was over, the crops were in, that which had been sown in Spring had been gathered. The ingering heat was a reminder of what had been, a few red leaves turning on the hillsides foretold the coming Winter. For the old man it was a good time of year to pass from one life to another, as the season itself passed from its fullness to its rest.

"In my Father's house are many mansions..." The old man left his home for the last time, content and happy. Not visibly a mansion, still he had made it one of a sort. Its fields he had known from childhood 50 years ago. He had loved that land not because it was part of him but because he had made himself part of it. The old barn beyond the lot had sheltered his harvest of hay and grain these many years. Its creaking lofts, its bins, its special grainy and animal smell had been familiar to his senses. Every day of his long life.

"Love thy neighbor..." He had done that. In the yard that summer Sunday were the neighbors he had loved. They looked as they had always looked on Sundays—except their voices were lower, their faces showing more understanding, more acceptance than sorrow.

There were nephews and nieces and grand-nephews and nieces and cousins. There were children of all these, and friends of cousins and then their children. And so on. The yard was full, the house was full of people who had loved him. They could all remember the old man's love of children, of themselves as children. There were times when he had saddled ponies for them, had interceded for them with Grandmother—herself a very old lady who thought her progeny were mischievous modern imps. Imps now grown and thinking the same things about their own.

He had extricated them from pranks, rejoiced in their triumphs, sympathized in their young troubles. Mainly, he had laughed with them. He had truly enjoyed those children, he had loved each one just as he was. Perfect or imperfect, they knew he was their friend.

So on this day, his last on earth, they came. In the little country church—where the quartet sang the hymns he loved, where the preacher fumbled with the microphone (installed to reach the overflowing crowd outside), where the final farewell was spoken—there was peace.

"I go to prepare a place..." The old man, at the end of his life, had gone to that other place. The harvest was in, the season was over, and even then there was the promise of new life to come. And the old man—the kind good man—was laid to rest on that afternoon of summer.

MARKET BREAKS SHARPLY IN WAKE OF IKE'S ILLNESS

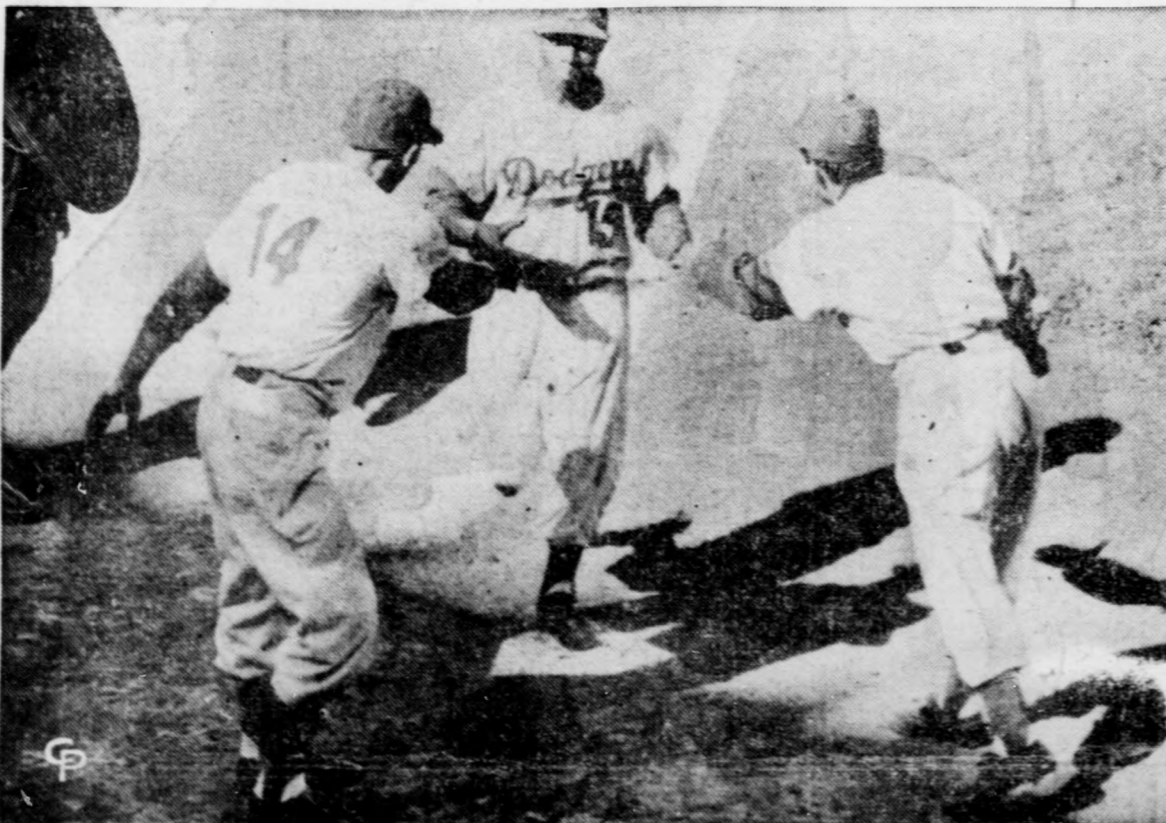

Trading floor of the New York Stock Exchange is a flurry of activity as stock prices, reacting to news of President Eisenhower's illness, register the sharpest declines since 1929. Dealings of 7,720,000 shares were the greatest since 1933.

BURDEN HANGS HEAVY OVER HIS HEAD

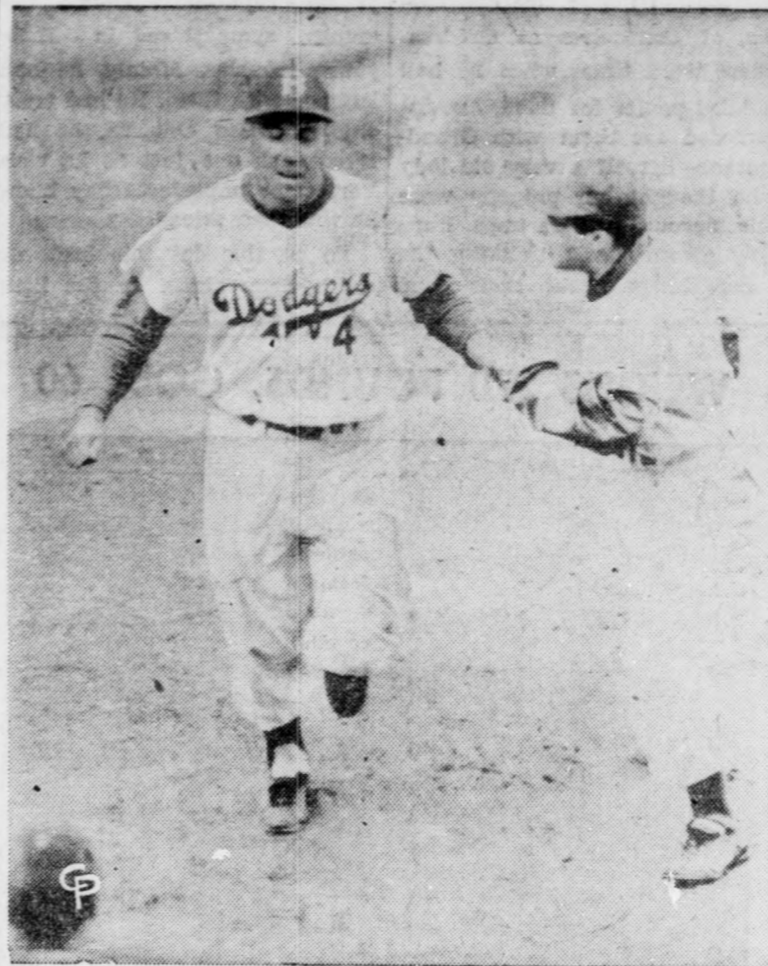

Confronted with the greatest responsibility of his life, Vice President Richard M. Nixon covers his face with a hand as he talks to reporters outside the White House in Washington. He was arriving to confer with some of President Eisenhower's top aides on problems created by the illness of the President.

AMOROS PUTS DODGERS AHEAD

Sandy Amoros, Brooklyn Dodgers leftfielder, crosses home plate after hitting a second inning home-run with a m-e on base, to put the Dodgers ahead 2-0 in the fifth game of the World Series, played in Ebbets Field. Greeting Amoros are Gil Hodges (14), Brooklyn first baseman, and the batboy. The Dodgers went on to win 5 to 3 and take a series lead of three games to two over the New York Yankees. The win was also their third straight victory, all at home.

SNIDER HOMERS -- RECORD FALLS

Brooklyn Dodger centerfielder Duke Snider comes home after hitting his third homerun of the World Series and his eighth in series play, in the third inning of the fifth game, which the Dodgers won 5 to 3. Snider homered again in the fifth inning, providing the Dodgers with their winning run over the New York Yankees, again breaking his own record.

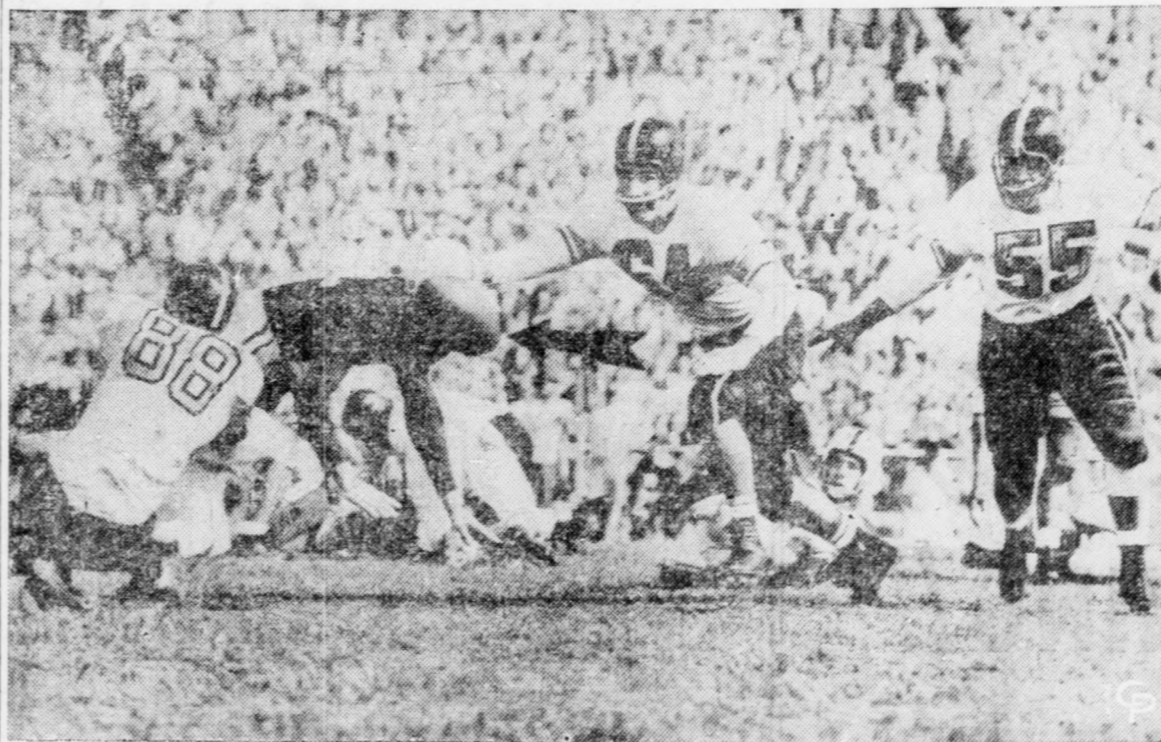

ALL IN VAIN AS YANKEES LOSE

New York Yankee shortstop Phil Rizzuto makes a quick jump-throw to Eddie Robinson at first base to complete a double play in the first inning when, after Dodgers shortstop Pee Wee Reese walked, Duke Snider grounded to New York second baseman Billy Martin who threw to Rizzuto to force Reese.

WISCONSIN POUNDS IOWA 37-14

Billy Lowe, Wis., halfback, is hit hard by James Gibbons (88), Iowa end, and fumbles the opening kickoff as Frank Bloomquist, (64) guard, and Don Suchy (55), center, both of Iowa, move in. Despite Iowa's recovery of the fumble by Don Suchy (55), Wisconsin's Badgers pounded out a 37-to-14 victory at Madison, Wis., before 63,000.

MICHIGAN WINS 14-7

Part of the 97,000 sellout crowd are shown watching Louis Baldacci (27) Michigan fullback, pile-drive a 4 yard gain over tackle. Michigan eked out a 14-to-7 victory over Michigan State in their Big Ten opener.

DEPAUW WINS 1ST GRID TILT IN 22 CONTESTS

One of the biggest thrills ever for DePauw gridders and fans alike came here Saturday with the Tigers' decisive win over Ball State, 19-6, to end a win famine which had lasted through 21 games.

The men of Coach Mike Snavely left no doubt that they wanted this one, and it was a team effort that gave it to them. Ball State, regarded as one of the ICC powers, was held to 70 yards rushing by the DePauw line.

Saturday's victory was the first for DePauw since a 34-0 triumph over Hope in 1952, and the winless streak that time had included 19 losses and two ties, both with Oberlin, next week's homecoming opponent here.

State, playing without its star halfback, Sonny Grady, dropped its first game of the season and was able to score only on the last play. Grady was sidelined with a hip injury.

Although there were too many heroes in the Bengal line-up to single out any for special mention, the entire forward wall earned most of the credit. State picked up only two first downs rushing and never threatened until the final seconds.

DePauw halfback Art Bryant, personally accounted for 141 of the Tigers' 233 net yards rushing and scored two of this team's three touchdowns. Fullback Skip Mathieson added another 86 yards, most of them in crucial situations.

After a scoreless first quarter, Bryant slanted off tackle and danced down the sidelines for 71 yards and the first score with 10:10 remaining in the half. Fred Williams added the extra point.

Bryant and Mathieson put on a two-man show for the second tally in the third period, accounting for all of the yardage in a 67 yard sustained march. Biggest gainer in the 11-play series was a 29-yard run by Bryant, who finally rammed over from two yards out. Don Boveri's drop kick conversion attempt was wide.

Early in the final stanza, State's Len Buczkowski had an abortive pass knocked in the air by DePauw end Jack Johnson, who caught the ball and scampared 52 yards to the Cardinal's five.

DePauw lost the ball on downs on the one, but when Jack Lowe of State attempted to punt from his end zone another Tiger end, Tom Holthouse, blocked the kick and fell on the ball for a touchdown. Williams missed the conversion.

With only seconds remaining DePauw had control of the ball on its own 43, but Greg Shackelford fumbled and Ball State recovered. Buczkowski's screen passed to Dave Kindt, who went all the way for the Cards' lone tally. Lowe's conversion attempt was wide.

The victory gave DePauw a 1-2 record for the season and an identical mark in the ICC. Ball State is 2-1 over-all and 0-1 in the conference.

CC TEAM LOSES

Ball State's defending ICC and Little State cross-country champions edged past DePauw here Saturday, 24-31, in a 3 1/2-mile race over DePauw's home course.

Although Coach Bob Harvey's DePauw runners accounted for five of the first nine places, Frank Sharkey of Ball State and a teammate, Dean Pierce, finished one-two in 18:42 and 18:53, respectively.

A pair of DePauw freshmen, Ron Young and Bill Blake, took the third and fourth positions, with Young timed at 19:06 and Blake at 19:08. Last year the Cardinals ran away with a 17-41 decision over the Bengals.

In Saturday's race between halves of the DePauw-Ball State football game, the fifth through 14th-place finishers were Dick Miller, State; Edwood Troy, State; Duane Osborn, Dick Hershberger, and Dave Clark, all of DePauw; Gene Hany, State; Gerry Herrmann, DePauw; Bob Mullen, State; Bruce Hall and Chuck Countryman, both of DePauw.

Oberlin's cross-country squad will accompany its football team to Greencastle next Saturday for a half-time contest during the Old Gold Day game in Blackstock Field. Oberlin beat DePauw in cross-country last season, 23-34.

Tulips make a lovely decoration for the patio.

To get the best effect from spring flowering bulbs in the home garden, do not plant them in single rows or massed beds. The grace and beauty of the daffodils, hyacinths and tulips are much better displayed when they are planted in groups, the number in a group depending upon the size of the garden.

A group of five bulbs is approximately equal to one perennial plant, and such groups can be arranged in pleasing combinations with other bulbs or plants. For maximum effect they may be planted at focal points in the garden where their beauty will stand out.

Three months of color can be enjoyed from bulb plantings, but this requires that several kinds be planted, chosen for their flowering season. Each kind gives a relatively brief display, and several may for a brief time overlap, as do the daffodils, hyacinths and early tulips. The late tulips have the longest season.

For a full three months, usually March, April and May, you will require snowdrops, which blossom when the ground thaws out, followed in turn by scillas, crocus, species tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, early tulips, and then late tulips, which include the parrots and late doubles.

It does not take many of the earliest flowers to make a welcome display since they come at a time when nothing else is in bloom. They also bloom when it is cold outside, and will be enjoyed most if they can be seen from the picture window. Daffodils bloom before trees and shrubs are in leaf and do well

KIDNAP VICTIM FINE AND DANDY

NEWBORN ROBERT MARCUS is fine and dandy after being recovered from a woman kidnaper, you gather from this photo of him dining in San Francisco. MISSISSIPPI MURDER DEFENDANTS HAIL ACQUITTAL

Half-brothers Roy Bryant, 24 (l. ft.), and J. W. Milam, 30, hug their wives in glee a few minutes after they were released on bond in Sumner, Miss., Saturday. They were found not guilty on the murder of Emmett T. II, Chicago Negro youth a week ago. Till was slain after he allegedly "wolf whistled" at Mrs. Bryant, who testified in her husband's behalf.

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass Pass 1 ♣
Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠
Pass 3 ♣ Pass 3 NT
All Pass

Players of both teams passed the North hand. Counting up this hand, we find that it contains 14 points. The textbooks say that 14 points is a compulsory opening bid. Why would these top-level players elect to pass it?

LONGER HONORS

Here is the answer. The weakest high cards you can hold are what I like to call lonesome minor honors. Minor honors, of course, are the queens and jacks. They are lonesome when they are in short suit with no other honors.

Look at the spade and diamond holdings in the North hand. Those queens are fine cards if partner has high cards in the same suits. Otherwise, the Q 7 of spades may be no better than the 7-2.

An easy way to understand the deficiency of lonesome honors is to consider a holding of K 2 in one suit and Q 2 in another. If the adversely held honors in these suits are unfortunately placed, your honors will be worthless.

But then suppose that your king and queen are both in the same suit. You have exactly the same high card count and yet you are certain to win a trick with one of these honors.

BETTER TO PASS

The conclusion is that when you have one or more lonesome minor honors in a hand which barely counts up to an opening bid, it is better to pass and hope your partner can open the bidding. If he can't, it is extremely unlikely that your side can make a game contract.

In this deal the Swedish team missed the game, but the Americans reached a contract of three no trump on the good bidding shown above. Larsen, of the Swedish team, opened a diamond and Rapee made the game with something to spare.
